U. S. GRANT,

Will make Two Trips per Week to the

CITY OF ASTORIA!

Carrying Passengers at $10, the Round Trip. (Meals Included.)

The Boat leaves Portland Wednesdays and Saturdays at 7½ A M Returning leaves Astoria Thursdays and Mondays at 5 o'clock A M.

Every person purchasing a Passenger Ticket will be presented with one of 900 Prize Tickets, to be drawn on the 1ST DAY OF AUGUST, 1867, for the following Prizes:

Steamer U S GRANT, to be divided into 4 shares;
ONE BLOCK OF LOTS IN EAST PORTLAND, divided into 4 shares, one lot to the share, of lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, Block 17, opposite the "New Columbian" Hotel and at the terminus of the proposed Suspension Bridge;
ONE GOLD WATCH, worth $100;
100 CORDS DRY FIR WOOD, in 3 shares, to be placed on the Brooklyn Wharf

The Steamer is 55 tons burthen, 52 horse-power engine, propeller wheel draft of water 5 feet she is being thoroughly refitted and refurnished as a Passenger Boat The Boat will be delivered in perfect order, free from all incumbrance, and Warranty Deeds made for the real estate, to the persons drawing the same Tickets can be had of C P FERRY, in Port and, where the money will be left on deposit till the prizes are drawn and delivered.

Any person having a claim against me, and wishing a ticket can get an order for one by calling on me on board the boat The person drawing the gold watch can have $100 in gold coin, if preferred

C. P FERRY, Broker, H J LADD, ex-Sheriff ALZEBER, U S Marshal, and C S. SILVER, Merchant, of Portland are the Committee and Judges to direct the Drawing of Prizes. The Prizes will be drawn before the 1st of August, if all the tickets are taken before that time

The above liberal offer is made to the traveling public to enable the subscriber to pay his debts, and not with any reference to speculation, as the property is valued at much less than its cost, (the Steamer alone having cost $11,000), and the price for carrying passengers to Astoria being much less than the usual fare

Portland May 21, 1867 d3m J W KERN.

Notice.
OWING TO THE STEAMER U. S. GRANT having lost several regular trips, she will continue to run for a few weeks, to give all ticket holders an opportunity to travel The tickets stand good for a passage as long as the boat continues to run A few more tickets yet to be disposed of

The Late Amnesty Proclamation

The Boston Tradesman has the following remarks on the amnesty proclamation

The sweeping pardon of almost every living rebel is the most comprehensive act of amnesty and oblivion ever granted by any government to traitors It is supposed that the exceptions will not exceed two hundred at the utmost, and some say that not a hundred persons are included in the three classes excepted When the British government issued an amnesty in 1746, it excepted eighty persons from its terms, though, at the very utmost, not above twenty thousand persons had taken an active part in the rebellion of 1745 Our rebellion was of gigantic proportions, and not above two hundred men are excluded from the benefits of the President's act of amnesty, all other rebels being "restored," so far as Presidential action can restore them, to the political condition they held at the close of 1860 when actual rebellion began with the secession of South Carolina Mr. Johnson, it is true, does state that the rebels are not restored as slaveholders, and we are astonished at his moderation A year hence, should he continue to "progress," he may issue another proclamation ordering the restoration of their slaves to those immortal patriots who sought to uphold and enforce the old Democratic principle of the right of any State to institute and maintain anarchy with rigid precision. The President so far defers to the popular sentiment as to require of his restored rebels that they shall take an oath faithfully to support, protect, and defend the Constitution and the Union, and to uphold emancipation, but that is no security whatever, politicians having no regard for the requirements of political oaths It such oaths were of any weight and force, such a thing as the secession war would not have been possible There was not a man of any note who took part in that conflict on the side of the rebels who had not sworn many times faithfully to support, protect and defend the national Constitution, ye, when, as they supposed, they could rebel with safety and profit, they broke through their oaths with a curse, and sought with vehemence the destruction of that very polity which they had repeatedly and vehemently sworn to maintain in all its integrity. Nor does it seem that their perjury has had the effect of lessening their consideration in the eyes and the estimation of the world Their conduct was approved by a large majority of the aristocratical classes of Europe, with whom honor has the first and highest place, and even our own people do not appear to have attached much evil to the perjury of the Southrons. In fact, political oaths are ranked by most men with Custom House oaths and lovers' vows, and as the rebels see how little importance is assigned to the kind of swearing required of them, they will swear as rapidly as they did in former times,—and keep the obligations thus assumed as faithfully as they kept those assumed in ante-secession days Even religious and strictly honorable men will regard the oath tendered them as something they must swallow under duress, and therefore not of binding force on their consciences To make an oath valid, it is held that both parties to it must be equally free—a doctrine that makes wild work with political obligations, and which has much to do with that disregard of the terms of treaties which is one of the commonest of the sins of the people and of our Governments. As many of the most eminent men of history have displayed a sublime indifference to the obligations imposed by political oaths, this form of perjury has an air of respectability about it that is not unamusing to the satirical observer of human life It has some resemblance to that treason of which it is often one of the chief incidents. Treason is very lightly regarded by almost all men, and is claimed to be the crime of gentlemen. To commit it involves a man in no disgrace; and should he chance to be hanged for committing it—a consummation never likely to be reached in this country—no stain rests either on his name or on his family The crime actually gilds that rope which inflicts an indelible mark when employed in "working off" any other description of criminal than a traitor. It is strange that this tenderness toward treason, which was not without some just foundation in former times, when it was meritorious to seek the overthrow of a bad Government, should have reached the height in an age when it is all but universally admitted that power rests only in the people As a British peer lately said in his place, high treason is the safest game which a man can now play at Considering this fact, and that the oldest born of treason, political perjury, is laughed at by men, as the old gods were supposed to laugh at the perjury of lovers, we can have no very strong faith in the future good faith of our secessionists, or in their rigid regard for the terms of that oath, in the virtue of which the President has so much confidence—a confidence the more remarkable when we call to mind his own contempt for obligations quite as strong, to say the least, as those he would provide to secure the obedience of the men who gladly would have hanged him not three years since. If he has the faith in an oath that the proclamation implies, he has gone through an astonishing experience only to learn astonishingly little, which we can hardly believe, as he is not without capacity Probably he has no more belief in the loyalty of his present friends than we have, but he needs their aid against the Republicans, and so he trusts them, reckless of consequences now, as he has been throughout the entire of his extraordinary Presidential career.

OUR BONDS IN EUROPE.—The New York Times of the 20th Sept. says: The fact that within the last day or two there have been anxious inquiries from Europe as to the new position Gen. Butler has assumed in reference to the finances and the payment of our debt, gives proof that upon one matter at least our public men and political parties will have to be careful as to what ground they take. Our credit in Europe is not what it should be, but with the large amount of our bonds which are now held there, and the large amounts which are constantly being sent there, it is of the utmost importance to this country that our financial standing abroad should not be dammaged by the loose and foolish utterances of men whose position gives them power over the legislation of the country At such a time as this, when the balance of trade is heavily against us, and when we are enabled to regulate it in some measure by the export of our bonds, it is suicidal to shake the confidence in those bonds of those whom it is our interest should become their purchasers A stoppage of the foreign demand at this time, or the return of a hundred millions of those now held abroad, would affect our credit, our commerce, and our industry very seriously We therefore repeat the warning to politicians which we have already given half a dozen times, that in the interests of party and of country as well as in their own selfish interests, they should be cautious as to the use of such language as will shake the foundation of the national credit

FACETIOUS BISMARCK.—A German paper tells a story of Bismarck which illustrates his fondness for a practical joke. The anecdote is as follows

One day, while he was dining at Frankfort, at the table d'hote, he observed two young ladies opposite to him who were talking and laughing in a very loud tone He soon perceived that they were making fun of the company, and that their remarks were especially directed against himself, but he could not understand a word they were saying as they spoke in the Lettish language, evidently making sure that no one at the table was acquainted with it Although the Count was ignorant of the language, he had learned two or three Lettish words during a recent tour in Courland, and he determined to use his knowledge so as to disconcert his fair assailants. Turning to a friend who sat near him, he whispered, "When you hear me speak in a foreign language give me your watch key" Meanwhile the ladies went on talking more boldly than ever, and by the time the dessert was put upon the table their hilarity had reached its climax At length, during a pause after a somewhat heartier burst of laughter than usual, Count Bismarck said quietly to his friend, "Dohl mein lo ansteh"—(Give me the key) The effect was instantaneous, the ladies started as if they were shot, and with their faces covered with blushes rushed out of the room.

The New York Independent reports, upon what it assumes to be positive authority, the statement that President Johnson offered to make Fred. Douglass Chief of the Freedman's Bureau, and significantly adds that "the greatest black man in the nation refuses to become a tool to the meanest white."

The Impending War in Europe

[From Wilkes' Spirit of the Times.]

A great war in Europe is inevitable. Those who place the slightest trust in the assurances of peace which the rival Governments are making, forget the maxim of Talleyrand, that the use of speech is the concealment of thought. Those who choose to take the word of a French or Prussian Minister forget that truth is the one especial virtue which a continental statesman cannot afford to practice All great wars in Europe have begun with proclamations of peace, so that the very phrase of "international amity" sounds like the report of a gun. The nearer the war, the more earnest are the protestations of good will, and the Governments remind us of prize fighters who, just before they beat each other to jelly, exchange the warmest hand shakings and most cordial smiles We have had more than one instance in this generation of royal rulers congratulating their subjects upon the prospect of long and happy peace at the very moment when they were preparing their armies to invade somebody else's territory "France desires peace, all her interests are bound up in undisturbed commerce, manufactures and art. She will make any sacrifice to avoid war." This is the manner in which the Emperor talked at Amiens. "I have crossed France with the Empress from Strasburg to Dunkirk, and our hearty and sympathetic reception everywhere has filled us with the liveliest gratitude Nothing, I perceive with pleasure, can shake the confidence which, for 20 years, the French people have placed in me. They have estimated at their real value the difficulties I have had to surmount. The ill success of our policy across the ocean has not diminished the prestige of our arms, since everywhere the valor of our soldiers overcame all opposition. The events accomplished in Germany have not caused our country to depart from a calm and dignified attitude, and it relies with confidence on the countenance of peace" Yet all this reliance upon the perpetuity of peace did not prevent Napoleon from buying iron-clad war vessels in America to increase a navy already superior to that of England. Nor did it put a stop to the unusual activity in reorganizing, drilling, and arming every branch of the military service. The camps of France are as busy as her manufactories. Immediately after the triumph of Prussia, measures were taken to organize the army upon a basis of 800,000 men. Prussia, equally emphatic in her protestations, has been as significant in her actions. The avowed policy of Bismarck is the consolidation of the North German States into one great military power, of which Prussia shall be the head, and it is notorious that his schemes have for their immediate object the detaching of the South German States from the influence of Austria. France is arming; Prussia is arming, the needle gun is to be met with the Chassepot rifle. Austria is sacrificing the hereditary policy of the Hapsburg to gain—what she never had—the effective support of Hungary, and an assurance that Hungarian troops could be depended upon in a battle Italy and Switzerland are adding to their materials of war, while that vast and semi barbaric power which overhangs Western Europe like a threatening cloud has already announced that the Sultan must revolutionize the whole system of his Government. Every movement of Russia against Turkey has been a prelude to a great continental struggle, and, of all her movements, the late demand is the boldest. And war does not result from the action of the Czar as much as his action is governed by his knowledge of the future. Peace may be preserved by a miracle, but miracles are very rare in politics, and if there is any significance in facts the editor of this paper was right when he lately gave his opinion, in his Paris correspondence, that war was the settled purpose of the European Powers, and that France and Prussia would meet on new battle fields before next Spring. The music of festivities and the songs of peace are heard throughout Europe, but beneath their rejoicing strains is heard the far sound of trumpets and the roll of approaching drums The silence is like that of a bright morning when two great armies meet and, while the birds sing and the bees hum in the clover, await a few brief moments the command to fire and the word to charge along the line.

TRYING TO MAKE GRANT TALK.—It is said that a number of politicians, assumed friends of Grant, have called upon him within a few days, and urgently insisted that he shall make some "declaration of principle" which will commit him distinctly to the Republican party, and enable them with greater boldness to urge his claims upon the Presidency. They argue that his relations to the Administration are such as to create some popular confusion with reference to his views.

We trust that Grant will manifest in the future the same discretion he has shown in the past. The moment he begins to write letters and make "declarations," he will be in danger of ruin. He is known to the Nation as a soldier, not as a politician, and his views upon political questions have been sought only as they were incidentally connected with the military policy of the Government. A disposition to prattle has ruined the most brilliant prospects. General Scott might have been President if he could have held his tongue.

After reading the addresses made on a recent occasion of National interest, we are more than ever satisfied that it would be well for many of our public men, if they could either learn how to talk, or else remain silent. Certainly, it would be undignified and improper for Grant to make a grand dress parade of his "opinions" for the delectation of partisans who may wish to use his influence and reputation, and thereby to advertise himself a candidate for the Presidency. Thus far, he has not appeared as a seeker after office; and he should not do so The admirable virtue of silence is one which the people like in his case.

The "views" of General Grant on public questions are not at all doubtful or obscure. They have been clearly expressed in his public orders, in his letters to department commanders, and in his correspondence with the President They are in sympathy with the "views" of loyal men everywhere, and with the policy which Congress has perfected for carrying on the great work of civil reconstruction. He can safely be judged by his record, and need have no apprehensions concerning the verdict. If there are ambitious politicians who hope to secure influence to themselves by seeming to control him, we believe that he will disappoint them.—Albany (N. Y.) Journal.

THE CHIVALRY AFTER THE SPOILS.—Under this head the Bulletin has the following

Whenever there are any temporary successes of the Democratic party, the chivalry wing manages to come out uppermost It may be reckoned over and over again as dead and buried, and that it even "smells to heaven;" But with the return of the smallest prospect for office there is the squeak as of so many starved rats after a bone. The fairminded, moderate men are thrust aside at once. "Conservatism and H

"The Constitution as it Was"

During the rebellion while the loyal party was endeavoring to secure an amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery in order that this source of national discord might be removed forever, the measure was vehemently opposed with a cry for "the Constitution as it is." In many quarters the cry is now heard for "the Constitution as it was." Since the late elections have inspired the Copperheads with a hope of more considerable successes next year, the demand for the Constitution as it was is becoming more frequently heard. What does this signify? That they wish to ignore the emancipation amendment and put the country back where it was six years ago? There can be no doubt that if reconstruction could be accomplished on their theory, the restoration of slavery would be one of its leading features. Any scheme which leaves this out, is, in their estimation, but a partial adjustment. They would go to the foundation and build reconstruction upon the "corner stone" which was talked of so philosophically by the rebel Vice President Stephens. If not, what means the continual clamor for "the Constitution as it was?" Why is not the cry for "the Constitution as it is," as was the case before the thirteenth amendment was adopted?

In the Legislatures of two of the States which were true to the Union during the struggle, (Ohio and California) the reactionists have a majority. Suppose the question of emancipation were yet undecided, does any one believe that either of those Legislatures would vote for it? Or suppose that those Legislatures had power to rescind the act of their States, who does not believe that they would do it? Who that advocates emancipation would be willing to allow those who oppose it a fair opportunity to undo what has been done?

It is perfectly well known that on the Copperhead theory, slavery is not lawfully abolished. The rebel States did not willingly acquiesce in emancipation, they were compelled to accept it. It would not be difficult for those who might seek a pretext for invalidating the emancipation amendment, to pretend to find it here. Is the demand for "the Constitution as it was," based on a feeling or a hope that some way will be found to make it what it was three years ago? Nothing is more probable than that a complete triumph of the reactionary element, North and South, would be followed either by an attempt to re establish slavery, or by an effort to compel the country to pay for the slaves who have been set free.

Commerce of San Francisco

As San Francisco has almost exclusive control of the commerce of the Pacific coast, and as the extent of that commerce may be best conceived by examining the trade statistics of that city, it will be a matter of interest to the people of Oregon to know something of the state of the trade and commerce that center there. The Bulletin of a late date presents a review of the commerce of that port for nine months of the present year, and publishes comparative tables of commercial statistics for corresponding periods in former years. The import trade shows a steady increase, the arrivals of tonnage from all quarters during nine months of the year being more than 100,000 tons in excess of the corresponding period for the year 1866. The whole coasting trade shows an increase of twenty per cent as against the last year, and the Atlantic coast an increase of 50 per cent. During the nine months under review, 1,944 vessels, having a capacity of 653,708 tons, arrived at San Francisco. About two-fifths of this tonnage was engaged in the Pacific coasting trade, the remainder being from domestic Atlantic and foreign ports. The value of foreign goods imported during the nine months is about $12,000,000, an increase of $1 000 000 over the same time last year. The amount paid for duties and imports this year is $6 000,000, against $5 666,000 in 1866. The estimated value of goods brought from New York by the steamers via the Isthmus during the first nine months of 1867, is nearly $30,000,000.

The export trade of the city for the present year is unusually large. Shipments of merchandise from January 1st to September 30th, aggregate $ 6 291 000 an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the corresponding period pf last year. From 70 to 80 per cent. of the exports have consisted of domestic productions, the balance being made up of Eastern and foreign goods reshipped from here. The shipments of flour and wheat since the beginning of the present year to the 30th inst. aggregate 436 547 barrels of the former and 10 013 sacks of the latter, the whole valued at $6 738,700. This is about double the value of the grain and flour export for the same period last year. The total number of grain vessels loaded to all quarters this year is 174.

The treasure export of the first nine months of this year is $31,726 940, a decrease of nearly $3,000 000 as compared with the like period of 1866. The coinage at the Branch Mint from January 1st to September 30th was $13,485,636 against $11,620 500 for the first nine months of last year.

COAL AT PUGET SOUND.—The Olympia Standard contains a very full description of the Coal Fields of Washington Territory, that is to say, of the Puget Sound region. The Bellingham Bay mines are now being worked vigorously. The daily product is about 100 tons, which will be increased to 400 tons as soon as arrangements now in progress shall be completed. An analysis of this coal shows that it compares favorably in quality with the best coal known. At Chuckanut Bay there is a mine which has been worked with good results. At Stolucquamish coal is found in workable seams, but at present is inaccessible to market.

The Seattle mines are now commanding great attention. The principal vein is twenty three feet thick, and the coal is pronounced equal to any obtainable on this coast. The Lake Washington coal mines are eight or nine miles distant from Seattle, and preparations are making to work them on a large scale. Two companies have been incorporated to prosecute the work. Four veins have been opened, which are from seven to ten feet in thickness near the surface. The Skookum Chuck coal fields are also noticed as being worthy of attention.

The late ceremonies on the battle-field of Antietam have revived in all its fury the old controversy between the partisans of Mr G. D. McClellan and the friends of Lincoln's Administration, in regard to the treatment of the former by the late President and Secretary Stanton. The Democratic journals exalt the Cunctator's military genius to the skies, and parade the catalogue of his supposed wrongs with as much indignation as they did in 1862. Of course Secretary Stanton comes in for the larger share of the censure. It is repeated 'or the thousandth time Lincoln and Stanton did not want to bring the war to an end, but were intent only on breaking McClellan down. And the old story is repeated that the war was prolonged two years by their treatment of McClellan, etc etc. These Democratic journals doubtless consider it a very damaging charge against the Union party that it continued the war two years after the "Democracy" had pronounced it a "failure."

The Washington Standard prints a table showing that the population of that Territory is 11 934. The assessed value of property is $7,726 804 21. The Territory contains twenty one counties.

The Alta says that scarcely more than half the registered vote was polled in San Francisco at the Judicial election last week.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 24.—A tailor named Raphael has been arrested by the Fire Marshal for a supposed attempt to set fire to the shop on Third street last night. Two men passing by the shop saw the flames entered the place and extinguished the flames. Raphael was inside at the time and gave no explanation of the affair.

A fire occurred this morning in Stapleton's Saloon on the Grotto Pavilion Sacramento street. The fire was confined by walls and little damage was done.

The remains of the man found in the water at the foot of Fifth street were identified last night as those of Joseph Hayne a native of Ireland. Deceased leaves a wife to reside at Sonoma.

The steamer Winfield Scott sailed this morning for the scene of the Rhinebeck disaster. She takes up a laboring party and it is possible that they may succeed in getting the wreck off and tow it to the wharf.

A private telegram from New York announces that Bierstadt the celebrated painter left that city for California on the steamer of Oct 21.

The examination of the negro who shot officer Rickard so as to take place at Oakland to-day. The authorities did not apprehend any trouble in the execution of their proper duties.

It is stated that a man named Randolph Lynch, living on Clay street above Dupont attempted to commit suicide last night by swallowing poison. A physician was called and his life saved.

Gen Cobbs, Col McKenzie Harry Byrne Thos Mooney, and others, representing the California Immigration Society, formally waited upon Gov Haight to-day, and laid before him their plan for facilitating and encouraging immigration to this State. Addresses were made to the Governor, who responded giving assurances of the co operation and influence of the executive in the project.

The Occidental market was sold to-day to private parties for $120 000.

St Patrick's church Market street is to be rebuilt and enlarged. Land extending through from Market to Mission street has been purchased for this purpose.

The Eastern line is still down.

Indian Outbreak Threatening on the Alsea Reserve!

CORVALLIS Oct. 24.—We learn from Frank Stanton of the Yaquina Stage Line that the Indians on the Alsea Reservation are about to break out. There is a general mess among them. At last accounts there had been one Indian killed, and Mr Simpson, agent, had notified settlers to be on their guard and keep their guns in readiness.

Democratic Tit Bits.

We present below a few extracts which serve to illustrate the principles of genuine "Democracy." The first is from the La Crosse Democrat, "the most widely circulated Democratic paper in the West." It is taken in large numbers by the Confederates of Oregon. Speaking of the California election, it says:

> In 1864, the tyrant Lincoln carried California, over McClellan by a majority of 18,293!
>
> In 1865 the State was represented by three worshippers of the late Lamented!
> But God rules above, and in 1867 Democracy is triumphant!

A Governor and two out of three Congressmen! How do you like it, you loyal, mobbing, sneaking, canting devotees of Rump Treason, and Radical Rumpism? It is not half "so noisy as it was" in your Union Leagues and loyal club rooms? You are not as happy or as jovial as you were, once! What is the matter?

And among the bondholders there is fear and trembling to-day! California has always repudiated the irredeemable paper currency of Republicanism—now she is heard for repudiation!

Quite as good, if not rather better, judged by a Democratic standard, is the following from the Prairie du Chien Courier:

> The Radicals think it is too bad that the people should have so soon forgotten the old "Widow Maker," who was shot by Hon J. Wilkes Booth in a theater in Washington. They say the Democrats are glad because the "joker" who sung nigger songs over the bloody bodies of soldiers is dead and gone. Well, it is "too bad."

At a late meeting of "Democracy" in Highland county, Ohio, where Vallandigham was the principal speaker, a letter was read which purported to have been written by Abraham Lincoln in hell. It substance was as follows:

> His abolition principles, he confessed, had brought upon him the infliction of eternal torments, and he warned his friends to abjure his heresies that they might escape his fate.

The reading of this ribald and blasphemous effusion was received with great glee by the assembled Copperheads. Vallandigham, the moralist and patriot, has, since the election, announced himself as a candidate for the United States Senate, and says he can be elected. The party that not only tolerates but enjoys such indecency as this, pretends to be shocked at Ben. Wade's denunciation of traitors, and to call it "brutality."

TWO PARTIES.—The Chicago Tribune, speaking of the present elections, considers them as illustrative of "an inevitable law of politics that there must be two opposing parties in a free Government, and that the preservation of each depends upon the vigilance of the other."

> "If the Democratic party were dissolved, and its members all united with the Republican party, the latter could not maintain its unity, but would at once divide into two parts, which, by whatever names they might be called, would present once more the fact of two opposing organisms.
> "The Republican party has grown to giant proportions upon the ruins of the Democratic party. Its principles of universal freedom and universal equality before the law are but the embodiments of truth, and are indestructible. It does not follow, however, that the Republican party can carry any man or policy that corruption or dishonesty may force upon its Conventions, or that fanaticism may engraft upon its platform. It must adhere to its principles, and leave all other things to take their chances. We are not of those who want to see the Senate and House of Representatives composed exclusively of Republicans, for that necessitates a division of the party. We do not want to see the party so strong in any State that its principles will be lost sight of in the election of corrupt demagogues, and in carrying schemes of local fanaticism."

GENERAL GRANT AMONG THE MORMONS.—The Salt Lake Telegraph, Mormon organ, in its issue of October 5th, opens a leading article thus:

> "No man possesses so completely the hearts of the people throughout the Union as does General Grant, and this because of his splendid military success in conquering the South and restoring comparative peace to the country. Since the war his official conduct has been marked moderation, a large amount of good sense, and apparently entire abstinence from political wire-pulling. These qualities seem to have further endeared him to the hearts of many people, especially to those who greatly desire to see the country, the whole country, restored, and speedily, to its old time harmony and prosperity."

GEN CASS AS A SCHOOLMASTER.—The following brief note is published in the Detroit (Mich.) Advertiser and Tribune:

> In the spring of 1861, shortly after the breaking out of the war, I was in company with Gen Cass when the following conversation took place. Said he, "Mr Bacon, you have been a long time teaching school in this State." "Yes," I replied, "before it was a State while it was a Territory. When you were Minister at St Cloud I was part school teacher at St Maries." "Well" said the old man, "I used to keep school, and I don't know but I should have kept until the present day if I had not found so many unreasonable people in the world."
>
> W. A. BACON.

THE ATLANTA LEDGE.—The Boise Statesman says:

> The unparalleled richness of this ledge in the Yuba district is daily becoming more manifest. Mr J. Strode, who came down from there a few days ago, informs us that some men had run several tons of rock through an arastra, and the result was only about twenty dollars per ton. Two tons of the tailings of the same rock were then run through the Greenback mills which yielded seventy nine and a half ounces of gold bullion, worth from twelve to fourteen dollars per ounce. Ten tons of rock from the Jessie Benton lode yielded thirty three pounds of gold amalgam, worth about $1,700. Our quartz ledges in that district will in a few more months astonish the whole world with their fabulous richness.

Wendell Phillips, in this week's blast in the Anti Slavery Standard, says of Grant:

> "Once before, there was an animal which passed for a lion till he spoke." When Phillips wrote that he must have been in the same frame of mind he was in when he called Mr Lincoln "the slave-hound of Illinois."

METEORIC DISPLAYS.—During nearly every clear night for a week past, meteors have been rather numerous, at some times almost amounting to a shower. In most cases the finest displays have been from 1 to 3 o'clock in the morning. Mr Hudson and other policemen on duty during the last half of the night have spoken of these appearances frequently and we have also heard them spoken of by other persons and on one or two occasions have witnessed them ourself. Last Saturday, Sunday and Monday nights the meteoric appearances were particularly frequent and brilliant. In traversing the heavens, they did not observe any general or uniform course, but just went shooting around promiscuously. On Tuesday night there were fewer of them, probably owing to the hazy condition of the atmosphere and on Wednesday night, the heavens were entirely obscured by black clouds and none were seen. At San Francisco, several of these erratic visitors were noticed as early as Saturday night, the 12th, and for three or four nights subsequently. The Alta discourses about the matter as follows: "A year ago the scientific world was all agog watching for the promised display of heavenly fireworks—the shower of stars, etc., which had been foretold years before. They watched all night on the 12th of November, the 13th, 14th and 15th, and then believing that the time was up, gave up the amusement. The stars did not feel like breaking the city ordinances and obstinately refused to shoot. It was supposed that the display would be reserved about the middle of October by the appearance of some great sky rocket and blaze; and that the grand closing blaze of glory would be seen ab ut November 12th, or between that and the 15th but there was no preliminary celestial skirmishing at all, and no good performance. But it is not impossible that somebody has made a mistake of a unit in the calculation and that the performance is to come off this year instead of last, or it may be that the performance was unavoidably postponed on account of the weather, or the illness of one of the leading actors, or something of that sort. At any rate it is a noticeable fact that within the past three nights there has been an unusual number of shooting stars to be seen nightly. Tuesday night, a gentleman counted ten of these erratic highflyers within an hour, and there were probably some hundreds during the night. The grand display may be near at hand, and we advise our friends to keep a sharp lookout for it.

AN EYE FOR YOUNG LADIES.—However educated almost every young lady loves a little flirtation and coquetry. They are born with an instinct for it and, when grown up, they almost invariably show that instincts never grow dull—in a woman. The following compilation from an "authority" in such matters, states the standard rules, in brief, for flirting with a handkerchief which by the way, is only one of about four hundred weapons, any one of which a feminine gender can bring to bear, at a moment's notice: Drawing across the lips—Desirous of getting acquainted. Drawing across the eyes—I am sorry. Taking by center—You are too willing. Dropping—We will be friends. Twirling in both hands—Indifference. Drawing across the cheek—I love you. Drawing through the hands—I hate you. Resting it rest on the right cheek—Yes. Resting it rest on the left cheek—No. Twirling it in left hand—I wish to get rid of you. Twirling in right hand—I love another. Folding it—I wish to speak with you. Over the shoulder—Follow me. Opposite corners in both hands—Wait for me. Drawing across the forehead—We are watched. Placing on right ear—You have changed. Placing on left ear—I have a message for you. Letting it remain on the eye—You are cruel. Winding around fore finger—I am engaged. Winding around third finger—I am married. It is attractive making perfect.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO.—The day before yesterday, we published an item clipped from the Walla Walla Statesman, to the effect that a rumor had prevailed that the First National Bank of Idaho had failed. We then pronounced it probably a false rumor. We are now in possession of the facts in relation to the matter. The bank drew on the Bank of California beyond its deposits and on the 7th inst. the Bank of California protested payment of a draft sent by a Portland house, and immediately sent an agent to Boise City to ascertain the condition of the Bank of Idaho. The agent, after visiting Boise City, returned by the Humboldt route and on the 15th telegraphed to San Francisco that the bank was all right. On the following telegram (omitting private matter) was sent to this city by Ralston, cashier of the Bank of California: "Checks good. * * * Our agent sent there says they are all right." So it seems the rumor had a foundation, though false in fact. The President of the Bank of Idaho accounts for the fact of overdrawing, assigning it to unavoidable accident—delays of mails, etc.

POSTER UPON POSTER.—Any one who has ever noticed the effect of pasting one poster over another on the walls about a city, has sometimes seen very odd and incongruous mixtures of words, sentences and sentiment. The text sometimes gets curiously perverted. For instance: Mrs Stowe or some other talkist is announced by poster to lecture; the pastor is headed in large letters, "Spiritualism." The next poster is headed "Closing out Sale"; then the next ye reads: "Spiritualism—Closing out Sale." In one place in this city, there was originally painted on the wall, "Posting bills here strictly forbidden by the owners." The first part of this has been painted out and in place of it now appears: "Hostetter's Bitters." The two now make up: "Hostetter's Bitters—strictly [illegible] by the owners," which, place them, mix up in like manner, we have seen, "Pixley Sisters—Just Received", "Grand Ball this evening at the Mammoth Saloon—I O G T"; and numerous other equally incongruous announcements. The literature of posters is sometimes worth studying.

MINING INTERESTS OF THE NORTHERN COAST.—The Mercantile Gazette and Prices Current of San Francisco, Oct. 8th, concludes its mining review with the following:

The manufacture of iron has been commenced. The Oswego works in Oregon, made the first pig, on the 25th of August last, the quality of which has been pronounced superb, by the founders in this city.

The reports that reach us from Montana and Idaho are exceedingly good. Extensive new placers, rich argentiferous and auriferous lodges are stated to have been discovered in several localities, the best proofs of the correctness of these reports being furnished by the increased quantity of bullion received from those Territories.

From Oregon, Washington Territory and British Columbia equally favorable reports are continually reaching us through reliable channels.

In concluding this incomplete review of the mining interest of the Pacific Coast, we think we have given sufficient facts to prove that it is vigorously prosperous without any symptom of decay.

A SAD CASE OF POISONING.—A small child of Mr. Dietz, aged between three and four years, fell into one of the vats at the tannery above this city, just at dusk last evening. It was shortly rescued but was insensible and apparently dead. Dr. Gilbert being quickly called, used such means for restoration as soon received the child to consciousness. It sat up and talked, asked for a drink of water, candy, etc. The Doctor then came away, but in a short time was called again. Upon arriving the second time, he found the child dying from the effects of the strong hemlock tanning liquor which it had swallowed while in the vat. The poison of the fluid seemed to have entered the system from the stomach and bowels and all efforts to counteract it proved unavailing. The child died in a few minutes after the Doctor's arrival.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The following are the proceedings of yesterday in the Recorder's Court:

The State of Oregon vs Thomas Atkinson; charge, robbery by taking a horse from the possession of Terrence Monaghan, held to answer before the grand jury and bail fixed at $1,000.

John Lesley; drunk and lying in the street, found guilty and sent to jail for five days, in default of fine and costs.

Since Sing, a China wash man charged with stealing some of the clothing of Mary Weston, given him to wash; jury trial; verdict of jury, "Not guilty."

WILLAMETTE PASSENGERS.—Arrived per steamer Alert on Wednesday, 403 bags wheat, 375 boxes apples, 2 bales woolen goods, 2 bbls dry stuffs, 1 pkge castings, 1 roll carpet, 789 qr sks flour, 140 sks screenings, 11 sks barley, 42 sks oats and 1 roll leather. Yesterday, the 24th, the Alert brought down, 409 qr sks flour, 14 sks dried fruit, 35 bf bbls do., 13 boxes produce, 346 bags wheat, 80 bags oats, 1 horse, 2 cases and 3 bales mdse, 1 trunk, 16 rolls leather, 3 tons pig iron, 20 bags feed, 60 boxes apples, 2 bales woolen goods.

THE INJURIES TO THE STEAMER.—There were various reports afloat yesterday in regard to the injury to the Oriflamme from getting aground at Woody Island. We may say that we have it from good authority that at low water she was somewhat strained, but that in the nature of things it could not be determined how seriously she was injured till got off the ground. As she will be here to day and all can get accurate information in regard to the matter, we refrain from publishing any of the current reports.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.—As one of the results of the late fair and festival given by the ladies of the first Baptist Church of this city, a contract has been let to tear down the old belfry on top of the church building and to build a new tower in front, and the work has already commenced. The foundation of brick is partly laid and many of the timbers for the tower are on the ground. The spire will be 84½ feet high. The rest of the building will be completed as rapidly as funds can be procured.

SEVERELY BURNED.—On Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock, a small child of Mr. J. H. Barrett who lives in the upper part of the city, was severely burned by igniting a match which it found on the floor. The burning match set fire to its clothes. Its mother who was out of the room, was attracted by the screams of the child and rushing in, extinguished the flames but not till the child's face, arms and side were severely burned.

THE ORIFLAMME.—After being lighted of about 300 tons of her freight, the Oriflamme got off the bar at Woody Island and passed Monticello at 5 45 P M, yesterday. She ought to have arrived at sea at 11 P M but the fog set in very thick at Davidson continuing to the time of our going to press. It is probable she will not arrive till this forenoon.

U S DISTRICT COURT.—AT CHAMBERS.—The entire day was consumed yesterday by the counsel in arguing the motion to dismiss the proceeding in the case of Bennett vs Bennett. The argument will be concluded this morning.

CLAM CHOWDER.—Mr Wetzell at the Exhelsior Soda Works, has been indulging his customers for several days in clam chowder, and the printers have to thank him for a liberal dish at a hungry hour of Wednesday night.

U S CIRCUIT COURT.—There were no proceedings in the U. S Circuit Court, yesterday, the habeas corpus case claiming the attention of Judge Deady during the entire day.

TREASURY RECEIPT.—Wells, Fargo & Co. received by the Nuna yesterday, $23,000 in treasure from the Upper Columbia and Idaho.

AUCTION SALE.—Falk & Kraemer will sell this day at 10 o'clock a large lot of Dry Goods, Groceries Furniture, General Merchandise, &c.

TO SAN.—The Oriflamme will sail for San Francisco on Saturday, the 26th.

THE MARYLAND MILITIA.—A good deal has been said lately, about the arming of the Maryland militia. The following dispatch to the Chicago Tribune furnishes some information on the subject:

WASHINGTON, September 25, 1867.

The Chronicle this morning has a long article about the Maryland militia from a prominent citizen of Baltimore. The writer says there are 4,000 of those militia already organized in Baltimore, and at least an equal number outside the city. He thinks the total paid militia will be ten or twelve thousand. These men are being uniformed at a cost of about nineteen dollars, and equipped at a further cost of about twenty three dollars per man, making the aggregate not far from half a million of dollars. In fact, the State has already been pronounced bankrupt by the Treasurer and Comptroller. The entire artillery force and many of the infantry companies are composed almost exclusively of returned rebel soldiers. The most extraordinary fact is that while the Government has a vast quantity of muskets and other small arms, good enough for all ordinary purposes of State militia, for sale at a low figure, this standing army of Maryland is being supplied with new Springfield arms. No demand was made upon the Government for any infantry equipments, but the value of the Maryland quota under the act of Congress is to be reduced to artillery, and a demand was made upon Secretary Stanton for the entire amount to which the State was entitled in artillery. It may be added to this statement that a very large proportion of the officers of this force are either returned rebels or Jim Crow Democrats. The War Department are making careful note of their doings, and of the proceedings generally of this force, and no loyal man believes it is being raised for a good or needful purpose. Secretary Stanton refused their demand for artillery.

MARRIAGE.—The editor of the New York Evening Gazette have been asked by some of their young lady readers if they believed with the Apostle Paul that it is best not to marry. To this query they reply as follows. The fact that the givers of this advice are bachelors does not, we suppose, militate against its soundness:

Yes and no, dear girls. That depends upon circumstances. A husband is like a blacksmith's largest hammer, in being a very handy and useful article to have about, if you need it and can manage it, and very useless and mal apropos if you don't. Speaking chemically, marriage is mixing the milk and water of opposing tastes, unless the alkali of genuine love be added, in which case you have soap and smoothness, and glide through life easily. Or we may vary the expression a little, and we may say that love is a solvent which unites. It is indispensible, it is delightful, it is powerful, but the trouble is, that a great many people are fatally apt to mistake a weak solution of sentiment and romance for the genuine extract whose power and flavor will last through life. Don't be in a hurry to try those chemical experiments for yourselves, dear inquirers. Check apoms are better than oliguoms, and housekeeping should be studied under your mamma's tuition before you try chemistry under your own. In this matter don't be eager to take Time by the forelock, lest he roughly take off your locks, the bloom from your cheeks, and the light from your eyes.

A HIT AT ALASKA.—The New York Tribune of September 25th, has the following hit:

We observe that General Halleck's orders date from the headquarters of the Military District of "Alaska." This may be considered a sort of official baptism, and it is to be presumed, the new Territory will be called There is a trifling difficulty in the way of abbreviation, however, as the first and last letters are identical with those of Alabama. Yet that may be avoided by writing "Alas," or "Alak," either of which would fitly signify Uncle Sam's feelings when the heap of rocks and icebergs was thrust into his pockets.

A CHANCE FOR BACHELORS.—Some young damsel thus advertises in the "Personal column" of the Chicago Tribune. It will be strange if some man can't be found to take pity on the darling. "Wanted, a hand to hold my own, as down life's vale I glide; wanted, an arm to lean upon, forever by my side. Address Miss Emma W. Handlin, Chicago P. O."

After the Crimean War, a young officer in the House of Commons wore tremendous moustaches, on which one of the members said, 'My dear fellow, now that the war is over, why don't you put your moustaches on the peace establishment?' 'Had you not better put your tongue on the civil list?' was the prompt retort.

On account of the steamer Oriflamme getting aground Barman Bros. are unable to open out their new stock of Clothing until to-morrow.

LUNCH.—Charles Joachim, proprietor of the Diana Saloon, Yamhill street, between Second and Third, has the thanks of the printers of this office for a generous lunch, served just at the right time, accompanied by a few bottles of delicious bock beer. As we write, the latter article is rapidly disappearing, the former having "gone from our gaze like a beautiful dream."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO.—Boise City, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. Dalbell, President. C W Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article, known almost universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only for colds in the winter, but for various summer complaints, and should be in every family. The casualty which demands it may come unawares.—Christian Advocate.

PAIN KILLER, taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar, if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a Cough and Bronchitis, a few drops on sugar, eaten, will be more effective than anything else. For Sore Throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water and the relief is immediate and cure positive.

Arrival of a Live Gorilla from Africa

For the first time there is a live gorilla in New York—a gorilla like those of which Du Chaillu has told so many wonderful stories in "Equatorial Africa and "Asbang Land"

At a late hour yesterday afternoon, there was an extraordinary excitement in the neighborhood of Barnum's Museum The gorilla had arrived, and his roars attracted a crowd of spectators

The animal was caught in the interior of Africa and was safely put on board the sailing ship Hardwig, and conveyed to this port The box in which he was caged during the voyage was made of teak wood plank—the toughest material that could be found in Africa A huge cart chain fastened to the neck of the gorilla passed through the box and was nailed to the outside.

From the jarring the gorilla received yesterday during its transportation from the ship to the Museum it became exasperated and growled furiously during the trip After the box had been taken into the Museum, Mr Charles Brothwell the Museum carpenter, loosened the chain from the outside of the box Professor Davison attached to it a rope, by which the animal was to be led to the cage, by running the rope through the bottom of the cage then fastening the chain to a beam of the building beneath the cage The rope was attached, when the gorilla began pulling in his chain Professor Davison and Brothwell both grasped the chain, as several men behind grasped the rope, but their efforts were unequal to the task The animal with apparent ease pulled into his box both chain and rope, and untying the rope from the chain, dropped it from a hole in the cage Mr. Brothwell then got the largest cage scraper in the building—a huge wrought iron bar an inch and three quarters thick, to which is attached a small spade—for the purpose of bringing out the end of the chain. This scraper had been used successfully in several contests with the lions of the establishment, which had vainly tried to make an impression upon it with their jaws Mr. Brothwell and Professor Davidson each took a scraper, and from opposite ends of the cage endeavored to foil the gorilla, and grasp the end of the chain

Finally the gorilla seized the bar which Mr Brothwell held. Another man, who is noted for his muscular strength, came to the rescue, but the animal proved their superior, and bent the heavy piece of iron double, so that the ends touched During this effort, however, the chain was secured and the box put to the cage, the animal entrapped, and his chain secured to the beams underneath During all this excitement the gorilla growled furiously, the sound resembling the excited roar of a lion. All the beasts in the building became excited, and the place resounded with their cries Women fainted and children cried, but the crowd would not leave the room until the manager ordered them to be put out by force.

A large barricade was erected and the doorway blocked up. The gorilla is now safely in the lion's cage and chained down. An immense chain, with a resistant force of six thousand pounds is attached to the animal. For five years past Mr Barnum has been endeavoring to secure an animal of this species, and ordered his agent in Africa to secure one without regard to cost. Mr B. F. Clayton, Mr Barnum's agent, a few months since wrote that he could secure one for $8,000, but the British Government were making every exertion to secure it for the Zoological Garden in London. Mr Barnum's word that he must have this one if it cost a much greater sum Accordingly, the gorilla was brought to America, and is now safe at the Museum

When standing upright it is five and a half feet in hight, and is about the color of an elephant. Its face has more the appearance of a human being than of a monkey, with an eye exactly like that of a human being Its hand is as delicate as a woman's, and it would not seem possible that there is in it such muscular power. This morning it exhibited an intense hatred of Mr Brothwell, who was yesterday instrumental in its capture. Professor Davison feeds the animal upon vegetables, but allows nothing of acid to be placed in the cage If the gorilla becomes irritable, it is soon quieted by placing a few cloves or nutmegs in its cage.—N Y Evening Post

THE FROZEN WELL OF VERMONT.—The famous frozen well at Brandon, Vermont, which has attracted so much attention, is described by a recent visitor as being forty-one feet in depth and passing through a stratum of frozen gravel fifteen feet thick before reaching water The frozen gravel was overlaid by a four foot layer of stiff clay, and underlaid by two or three feet of gravel which was not frozen. It was dug in 1853 by Mr. Twombly, the owner, to supply his dwelling with water. In winter, it freezes over generally at night several inches in thickness, and they have to send a boy down in the morning to break it, and some times, in very cold winters, it freezes so hard as to be useless until spring

Last winter this was the case, and in the month of May a man had to be sent down into the well to break up the ice before water could be obtained During the summer there is ice attached to the stones of the wall near the surface of the water, and sometimes small pieces are brought up in the bucket. Of course the water is cold at all times like ice water The owner says the middle of the shaft is the coldest, and he complains of having caught the rheumatism by going down into it in hot weather. The extensive deposit of frozen gravel is the cause of the freezing of the water in the well, but the mystery is how did the frozen gravel get there? Was it formed during the glacial period? Wells were sunk at a distance of seventy feet on each side of this one to ascertain the cause of the phenomena In one at twenty-nine feet, they found water of 46 deg. (temperature), while that of the frozen well was 32 deg. In the others they found layers of frozen gravel and ice from two inches to a foot thick at a depth of twenty nine to thirty four feet, at which point every thing was solid, and chunks of ice were picked out by the workmen, and the workmen stopped. The mystery, however, is still unexplained

HOW TO BECOME A MILLIONAIRE.—John McDonough, the millionaire of New Orleans, has engraved upon his tomb a series of maxims he has prescribed as the rule for his guidance through life, and to which his success in business is mainly attributed They contain so much wisdom that we copy them

Rules for guidance of my life, 1854.—Remember always that labor is one of the conditions of our existence. Time is gold; throw not one minute away, but place each one to account Do unto all men as you would be done by. Never put off till to morrow what you can do to day. Never bid another do what you can do yourself. Never covet what is not your own Never think any matter so trifling as not to deserve notice Never give out that which does not first come in. Never spend but to produce Let the greatest order regulate the transactions of your life. Study, in your course of life, to do the greatest amount of good Deprive yourself of nothing necessary to your comfort, but live in an honorable simplicity Labor, then, to the last moment of your existence. Pursue strictly the above rules, and the Divine blessing and riches of every kind will flow upon you to your heart's content, but first of all remember that the chief and great duty of your life should be to tend, by all means in your power, to the honor and glory of our Divine Creator The conclusion to which I have arrived is, that without temperance there is no health, without virtue no order, without religion no happiness, and that the aim of our being is to live wisely, soberly and righteously

MAN AND STEAM POWER.—Ericsson is the inventor of American monitors, turreted gunboats He has contracted with the Swedish Government to build several vessels which he styles "man monitors," and which may be propelled by either steam or man power. Each boat is 103 feet long, 20 feet wide, 7 feet draft and 140 tons burden. The turret is 10 feet long and 12 feet wide, plated with 7 inch armor. The boats will carry one 15 inch gun The engines are 20 horse power, and, with the boiler and shafting, weigh eight tons A boat can carry but eight days' supply of coal, and as Sweden has to depend on other nations for her coal, it is desirable for her to obtain a formidable gunboat that can navigate the shallow bays of the shores of Sweden without using steam power In war the boats are to be propelled to the scene of engagement by man power, but during no action steam is to be used, leaving the men at liberty to work the guns The machinery is worked by twenty four men sitting on opposite seats, who work a break similar to that of a hand engine

CHOLERA NOT CONTAGIOUS BUT INFECTIOUS.—The International Medical Congress which has just met at Paris, has decided that cholera is not contagious, but is eminently infectious, like yellow fever, typhus etc It originates where large numbers of individuals are collected under bad hygienic or climatorics conditions It is transported along great maritime, fluvial, or land ways of communication by the travelers who frequent them Crowding is the principal cause of cholera and of almost all epidemics, and ventilation is the best means of preventing and stopping such maladies To herd them together like beasts is to kill them as a matter of certainty. Individuals in an infected district must therefore be scattered, themselves and their clothes disinfected as soon as possible

With the exception of Bolivar and Tuscaloosa counties, the registration of Mississippi is complete, and shows—whites, 16,636, blacks, 60,167, total, 106,803.

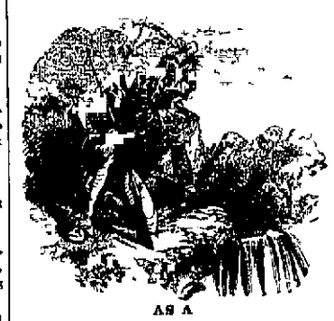
HENLEY'S

ROYAL BALSAM.



AS A

FAMILY MEDICINE

IT IS

WELL AND FAVORABLY KNOWN,

RELIEVING THOUSANDS

FROM

COUGHS, COLDS, Bronchitis,

ASTHMA, CROUP, HOARSENESS, WHOOPING COUGH, Influenza,

AND

OF THE

Chest and Lungs.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction but on the contrary all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it

☞ Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon.

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife She had been afflicted with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit and all the remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest—when Mr. Kendall, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam as all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle through was cleared. Its effect was truly miraculous as the cure was effected hence, I have no hesitation in recommending it to Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect is not more in use My candid opinion is, if persons use it once they never be without it in the house

Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H LOCHRAN

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 13, 1867

DEAR DR HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a Fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose Through the influence of my neighbors (I for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam and finding that it relieved me considerable I sent for a half dozen more And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured I gained ten pounds with a month and feel quite a different man I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been Yours truly

WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

DEAR DR HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough, and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning, and that was all that was necessary to cure them I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy as it acts like magic on children When I have seen all I need from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and should be unkind

Yours truly, SOPHIA M HOLMAN

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all In fact we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it seems of no use to keep any other During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as each person by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction

BELL & PARKER
Druggists Oregon City

From W. F. Barber.

DR HENLEY—Dear Sir I had the Asthma for the last four years so bad that it came near choking me I tried all the patent medicine recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam which on several afflicted with the same disease has performed wonders I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since and I really believe that I am perfectly cured, anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease

I am Yours truly
W F BARBER

From J. H. Morril.

DEAR DR HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now a days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine For I had suffered with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time I tried many of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast all to no purpose I could get no relief and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had in one night the desired effect on me and before I had used up four bottles the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or coughs than the Royal Balsam and I can conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial

I remain yours truly,
